

"Becoming the brave and instant practitioner of architecture, I found my courage ebbing daily with the tide."

LEFT: Open to the main area, the light-filled kitchen preserves the easy informality of the house. An avid collector of hats, Dot Spikings has arranged several on an antique Louis Vuitton trunk. ABOVE: In the master bedroom, an English trestle table holds scripts under scrutiny by film producer Barry Spikings. Seekers of the sun, the owners have been captured relaxing at their home in the Caribbean in a dual portrait by Niger van Wyck.
