

"The dream of living in a barnlike house is a remembrance of his childhood."

LEFT: Filigree patterns in a Victorian wicker settee are repeated in the muted arabesques of the Tabriz rug covering the floor in the master bedroom. The Schrank, with its gaily painted floral design, contributes a quaint countrified note. ABOVE: The steel-framed expanse of glass, designed by Mrs. Spikings, is a dramatic backdrop to the terrace. A scarecrow shoos gulls away from the flourishing herb and vegetable garden.
